

Good evening METROs,

Tonight's issue of the Banana Wind is brought to you by the letters T (Tickets) and M (Money) and the number 100.

The good news is that it was the earliest date ever for Jimmy Buffett's concert at Jones Beach to be announced. The not quite as good news is that the box office would like the ticket transaction to take place at the earliest date ever.

That said, it's time for those of you who have requested concert tickets to send in your payments.

Tickets cost $100 each. Checks and/or money orders should be made payable to the METRO Parrot Head Club, the Self-Addressed, Stamped-Envelopes should be made out to, well... yourself.

The deadline for payment is March 1, 2019.

Both your check and your Self-Addressed, Stamped-Envelope should be mailed to the METRO PHC Ticket Coordinator (that would be me):

Joe Lombardi
P.O. Box 8
Wainscott, NY 11975

Those of you who send self-sealing return envelopes will be given choice seating.

As long as our thoughts are turning to warmer days and Jimmy Buffett concerts, we might as well let you know that we are looking for volunteers to help plan the pre-concert tailgate party. Anyone interested can contact Linda Masten, the METRO PHC Social Director at mypal2@hotmail.com

By the way, according to the Official JB @ JB concert countdown timer, that can be found on the Metro Parrot Head Club webpage, www.metrophc.net there are only 179 days left until the concert.

Besides the concert countdown timer, club members care encouraged to visit our website www.metrophc.net to see our calendar of events.... check back often because events are being added all the time.

Item last.... Several people who have requested concert tickets have not yet renewed their memberships. Please take care of that ASAP. Renewals can be done on the Club website.

That's all folks. Have a good night and a pleasant tomorrow.
